Strategies for Language Competency for Children and Adolescents with FASD

Featuring: Christina Rebus B.Sc., M.Ed, Reg.SLP (C)

Christina Rebus has worked as a Speech Language Pathologist with children with FASD and their families in various settings. These areas have included school divisions, PUF preschools and her private practice. She is presently the Speech Language Pathologist on the FASD team with East Central Health. Her approach emphasizes the essential aspects of working with a team and providing practical and functional strategies that assist the child, family and stakeholders to cope with everyday concerns.

Participants will learn:

About the role of the Speech Language Pathologist in FASD assessment and treatment

The importance of a professional and family team approach for the child's treatment and program planning

Strategies for children and adolescents that will assist with language and literacy development at home and in school

Strategies for children and adolescents that will assist with social language development to enhance relationships with friends, family and in school
